DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the embodiments where the tool is a curling iron and the heating element having a corrugated surface, must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 3732

Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In line 2, "the inner clamping element" lacks a prior antecedent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 5-10, 12-14, and 16-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Decker (United States Patent No. 1,948,467).

Decker discloses a hair treatment system comprising a hair styling tool having a pair of pivotally connected arms 1,2; one or more hair contacting elements 7 connected to the styling tool; a securing frame 18,19 that can be connected to the hair contacting elements and/or the styling tool; and an application cloth 24 for applying a substance to portions of the hair. The contacting elements have a corrugated contacting surface. The frame includes an outer clamping element 19 and an inner clamping element 18 pivotally connected thereto and holding the cloth therebetween. The first clamping element includes a first securing element 21 and the second clamping element includes a second securing element 25.

Claims 1, 3, 4, 6, 7, 9, 11, and 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Salvio (United States Patent No. 2,065,874).

Art Unit: 3732

Salvio discloses a hair treatment system comprising a hair styling tool having a pair of pivotally connected arms 1,2; one or more hair contacting elements connected to the styling tool; a securing frame 11 that can be connected to the hair contacting elements and/or the styling tool; and an application cloth 8 for applying a substance to portions of the hair. The contacting elements have a corrugated contacting surface. The tool is a heatable curling iron (see figure 1).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, and 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Okumoto et al. (United States Patent No. 6,173,718) in view of Salvio.

Okumoto discloses the invention essentially as claimed except for the securing frame and application cloth. Salvio discloses that it is known in the art to provide a heatable hair styling tool with a securing frame and application cloth in order to apply a setting solution to the heat along with heat.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
